CURRENT COMMENT

The following is quoted from the Bulletin of Saturday:

CITIZENSHIP TO DISCONTINUE.

Announcement has been made that the Strathcona Chronicle will discontinue publication of a daily paper at the end of the present month. This is a pretty fair indication of the real opinion of that journal as to how the Dominion Chronicle will result. The Daily Chronicle was started in May, 1907, as an independent sheet, but soon switched to the most rabid Tory partisanship. By its attacks on reputable public men, not alone of Strathcona but of provinces and the Dominion, it has gradually alienated the sympathies of Liberals and Conservatives alike. Its fate will be a lesson to those who think that the people will tolerate the grossest falsehood and misrepresentation of a journalistic life.

The grossness of the outrage against journalistic courtesy and ordinary decency that is embodied in this paragraph must be apparent to all honest men. To commence with the story is absolutely untrue and unproved, but that only constitutes a part of the enormity of the outrage. In the first place our readers will bear in mind who is the author of this journalistic outrage. It emanates from a man McKee, who is a sort of representative and reporter for the Bulletin on the side of the river. To give our readers an idea of the work that this man McKee does we have only to mention a few of the achievements during the last year. He invested and circulated his card that the C. P. R. would cross at Clover Bar instead of by the high level bridge. This was done for the purpose of boosting Edmonton and giving a black eye to Strathcona, in conformity with the avowed policy and expressed dislike of Mr. Oliver, the Bulletin's owner, to this city. Fortunately, Mayor Duggan took immediate steps to refute the story and minimize the damage which it was intended to do Strathcona. Another of this man McKee's achievements was to land the Bulletin in an action of libel in which Justice Stuart awarded damages to the Chief of Police Patterson. Yet another of McKee's doings was to report Conservative meetings across the river in such a manner as to call from the platform the expression of wonder that any man could sink so low in coming his broad and better. We will only quote one more of McKee's modes of carrying on what we presume he mistakes for journalism. The Toronto Globe published a very flattering resume of the work done by the various ministers during the past session. This article was copied practically in its entirety by the Edmonton Bulletin. A week later Dr. McInyre arrived home, and this man McKee, who doubtless in the hopes that by poking his nose in everywhere he may attract sufficient attention to get a job of some kind, interviewed the Doctor. The doctor with his usual courtesy, said a few words as he would to any other party hanger-on, and in the next Bulletin, 10 and behold, a half page interview appears, made up of the very stuff that had appeared in the Toronto Globe and in the Bulletin itself a week before. In other words, McKee deceived the public into believing that Dr. McInyre had given utterance to statements that never passed his lips. So much for the instrument the Bulletin uses.

To continue for the paper itself. To commend with we may say that we have instructed our solicitors to demand an apology, in default of which an action for damages will immediately be served, as the Bulletin's article was intended and calculated to do this paper damage, and was obviously malicious. We may, however, contradict a few of the obvious mistakes contained in this previous production. The Bulletin says that the discontinuing of the Chronicle is an indication that we anticipate adverse results in the election. This is a ridiculous. We do not anticipate any adverse results, and further the results, whatever they were, would make no difference to this paper. The Chronicle has existed without the slightest particle of government assistance. Even the provincial government has deignedly neglected us. We do know, however, a paper that a change of government would put out of business, and that is the Bulletin. Our readers can imagine what the position of that paper would be if the provincial government's $25,000 a year was withdrawn if the government's countless subsidies were stopped, and if the gap on the treasury of the G.T.P. were at an end. The Bulletin further says that we have attacked reputable public men in Strathcona, in the province, and in the Dominion, and have alienated the sympathies of Liberals and Conservatives. The Bulletin is only a vulgar liar. Among our most valued friends are many who are opposed to us, while as far as the Conservatives are concerned the flattering comments on the good work that has been done by the Chronicle on behalf of the party made from many a platform are sufficient refutation of the Bulletin's trashy falsehood. The Bulletin again tells what it suggests that we have resorted to falsehood and misrepresentation. We have, we admit, attacked the public life of many public men with whom we did not agree. It is the fate of every public man to be attacked by those who are opposed to them, and no man has a right to expect public life unless he is prepared to be criticised, but we declare solemnly that we have never written a word that we did not believe was true. We have never made an attack that we did not believe was justified, and we have been uncrisply particular that no unfair word, no questionable thought, or unfair method should be used. We call our political opponents as witnesses that whenever we have unintentionally misstated what they have said, or what they have done, we have gladly corrected it at once, as for instance in the case of the picnic to Port Island and the letting of the Liberal Club room for the sittings of the District Court. We have been most respectfully misrepresented to the Bulletin class of organ and the McKee type of scribble. We desire to retain the respect of all reasonable men in the district, and what is more, valuable even than this, to retain our own self-respect. We believe that journalism is a reputable and responsible calling, and the man that would prostitute his pen for any party or purpose is unfit to belong to it, and in that class we characterize this man McKee.

Go to the blood, if you are to drive

Dr. Shoop, does this with his Rheuma-

Because of this principle, Dr. Shoop's opinion that it now rests as it has

"They still further urge that less of the lands, (inter alia) under the sale of the northwest are held for sale by the Dominion government, and the money resulting appropriated to the general use of the country, and as in all the provinces of the Confederation, except Manitoba, taxes resulting of revenue are paid to the federal government, and not to the local government, which places the northwest at a disadvantage in the matter of funds compared with the provinces and as the public works or improvements or government of the northwest, and of the lands must necessarily increase the value of land held within the Territories by the Federal government, in justice to the people of the north-west, who under other circumstances will have to pay from local funds, the improvement of Federal lands, a proportionate increase of subsidy should be granted pending the taking over of such lands by the local government of the Northwest Territories at some future time."

made with the North Atlantic company changes were made for the benefit of the concern. The changes allowed the bonus for children and also withdrew the restrictions in regard to immigrants having a certified sum. De puty Minister Smart testified as follows before the Public accounts committee: Q.—Did I understand you to say that under your first contract of 1899 you paid the company a bonus on children?
A.—I think in 1901, I am not certain.
Q.—When did you commence to pay on children?
A.—I think in 1901, I am not certain.
Q.—Under what authority.
A.—I think it was a departmental regulation.
Q.—What was the duration of the first contract?
A.—I think it only lasted a few months. There was a number of other restrictions in it which we thought better not to have. For instance we restricted payment on certain persons unless they had so much money.
Q.—That was done away with afterwards?
months altogether.

LIBERAL METHODS OF CAMPAIGNING.

the affidavit, released his request.
The commissioner is a member of the Presbyterian church, and took the Commission from his hands in April last. He is one of the class of patrians who put "party first" and righteousness elsewhere.
The men who attacked me in the council are as follows: The commissioner, a man who left the bench in British Columbia about eighteen months ago, to run in the Liberal interests for the local house, was submerged and got his reward for the sacrifice—the commissioner-ship of the territory, at $12,000 a year.

The chief justice of the territory.
The legal adviser, Spikler.
Robert Lowe, government patronage controller and liquor permit agent for the southern part of the territory and ...
Thomas Keeney, whose additions it was to be the Liberal candidate.
The whole matter was arranged by the gang of so-called Liberals, who have lost the cause of the Yukon.
That the Liberals made the attack and that it was pre-arranged appears from the fact that the only man who raised his voice in protest against the Liberal attack, was George Black, a New Brunswick man, and the Conservative candidate at the forthcoming election.

I may say that I have received through my lawyer in Seattle, the communist's cross-affidavit in which she tells the story of the way in which the affidavit was obtained. The gang offered her $500 to withhold the cross-affidavit, but she resolved to do what was right and she did.
I shall if necessary publish this document to show the dirty work to which the party spirit will carry even those whose battle cry twelve years ago was "Party and Progress."
JOHN FRINGLE.

IS THIS HUMOR?

London, Oct. 18.—The Times correspondent, discussing the imperial problems of Canada, emphasizes very strongly the danger of the immigration of non-British Europeans. These ignorant peasants will delug the politics of any country they inhabit.
It takes more than one generation of them to make good citizens. The number of immigrants of this kind in some parts of Canada is simply amazing.
He asks: Is it necessary to give them the right to vote, while the people of Canada vote themselves into a fury over the presence of a few thousand Asiatics, ignoring the real menace and imminent peril.
The correspondent also points out the tendency of western Canada to copy the United States' model. Indeed, he states the Canadian is without a sense of humor. He is the kind of man an Englishman of the seventeenth century must have been.

BRITAIN VIEWS ON TARIFF.

London, Oct. 18.—Saturday's Grocers Review, in referring to the Canadian election, says the opposition Laurier has to face is strenuous and determined, and the signs seem to favor a change. Laurier is not above reproach as an imperialist, but has at least to face the preference Great Britain now enjoys. Preference would be quite safe with the Conservatives, though they might perhaps endeavor to make an arrangement little more business like. They might suggest to Great Britain that the time may come when Canada might ask some sort of return, and such a suggestion would not be without its effect on the tariff reform movement.
A special correspondent of the Independent Daily Post, at Montreal, in a very lengthy letter on the dumping by the Canadian Steel company, says it is a tariff reformer in England who wishes to acquire technical knowledge, and to acquire technical knowledge, they should keep their eyes on the alignment of goods of steel rails from Sydney to India.
The correspondent claims that the Dominion Steel and Steel company has been more highly favored by the government through the laxetown of public money and enactments of special legislation than any other industrial concern in the Anglo-Saxon world.
The Liverpool Daily Post-Mercury commenting says: "Canadian may want to know whether these rails are not being sent to India at lower prices than are charged to the Grand Trunk Pacific for rails supplied for the transcontinental line."

SLEEPERS HANG OVER PRICK.

Vancouver, Oct. 16.—The Canadian Pacific train number 98, going west, met with an accident on Friday at noon at Bear Creek. A split rail caused the accident, three sleepers going all the track. These cars fell on their sides and were prevented by a telegraph pole and switch stand from falling six hundred feet over the hill. The passengers were rescued by being taken from the windows. Two were severely hurt. One was unconscious when taken out.

A RECORD.

Winnipeg, Oct. 18.—Saturday was a record day on the Canadian Pacific Railway, two thousand seven hundred and three cars being handled in and out of Winnipeg in twenty-four hours.
Sixty hundred and fifteen cars went east alone.

TRIDUNE TRUMPS.

People never forget that the ministers at Ottawa and members of parliament are your servants, not your masters. The grafters have had their funings. You have your turn one week from today. Don't forget where you stand.
The Price Press wants all Liberals who have changed their addresses to notify that office. Lucky thing it isn't asking for all the people who have changed their minds, in which case the paper that Frank Oliver speaks of in the above copywriting page, wouldn't be able to stir its mail between now and election day.
Those who boast of the victories of Clifford Sifton in Brandon, by means of the "lowest" forms of bribery and the expenditure of hundreds of thousands of dollars—where did the money come from?—should not be forgotten that Old Nick himself has oftentimes been victorious. But his finish is as certain as the rising sun to-morrow morning.

The Toronto Globe blazes on the future of India rubber, another name for the Globe's opinion on the tarriff.

Clifford Sifton is described by a newspaper as "the dirtiest blot on the political life of Canada." Yes, everybody knows it.

If Canada votes according to her conscience the Grafters and Timber Lionel Raiders will be finished one week from to-day.

"Nowadays, it is nothing to call a man a thief," said a citizen at noonday.

"Why is it?" asked another.
"Because a whole lot of poor think a Canadian politician isn't real close if he can't steal something."
And the citizen wasn't dreaming.

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys, easily point to weak kidneys.
The kidneys, like the heart and the lungs, are the organs that control the body. If they are weak, the body is in a state of disequilibrium. It is a condition specifically prepared to reach these controlling organs. To doctor the kidneys alone, in health. It is a waste of time, and of money as
